Write an informative feature article for an online magazine under this angle: how can limits on work hours protect students while recognizing the benefits and pressures of having a job? Use relevant information from both written texts and the audio documentary. Explain the issue rather than simply listing opinions. Write about 400 words in your own words. Include a headline, subtitle, main idea, lead, paragraphs, and an ending. Include at least one direct or indirect quotation and at least two complementary elements, such as a pull quote or an information box.

Your article will be marked for:

Use of knowledge from texts in a reinvestment task

Text form (required text components)

Language repertoire (vocabulary and language conventions)

Language repertoire (language register and idiomatic language)

About 400 words
